ADDRESS.

THE EDITOR of the following Arrangement, having been previouſly honoured with the unanimous approbation of all the worthy CANDIDATES; and favoured with the neceſſary peruſal of authentic books of the General Poll, as taken before the Sheriffs, and learned Council, on the ſeveral days of election; he the more cheerfully entered upon the arduous undertaking, of minutely tranſcribing the whole, and afterwards forming the copies into alphabetical order; and hath not ſpared either pains or expence, to finiſh the work as neatly and correctly, as the methods of ſuch compilations will admit of: At the ſame time, he confidently hopes, that the few typographical miſtakes of the Preſs, will be candidly conſidered as merely immomentous, and conſequently excuſable. The attentive intelligent Readers are alſo requeſted to rectify a few miſplaced ſuffrages, by adverting to the Table of Errata.

THE incidental variations in the ſpelling of ſeveral ſimilar ſynonymous ſurnames, and places, will be naturally accounted for, by thoſe gentlemen who have had official experience of the hurry, and unavoidable interruption frequently happening at taking down Tallies, in the moment of polling: And it may not be improper to remark here, that by all reports, the late conteſt at Durham, was conducted by the Managers with a laudable regularity, beyond the precedent of former times; and this pleaſing circumſtance may be reaſonably attributed, in a great meaſure, to the prudent aboliſhment of COCKADES! The diſtributing ſuch FAVOURS, with an indiſcriminate profuſion, was a diſagreeable cuſtom, not only extravagantly expenſive to the Candidates, but alſo too frequently the ſource of riots and confuſion.

THE importance, and utility, of preſerving copies of the general poll, taken at conteſted County Elections, muſt be evidently clear to all ſenſible Freeholders, who have the political welfare of their country at heart; and therefore, to ſuch true conſtitutional PATRIOTS, this WORK is moſt reſpectfully dedicated by their

Devoted humble Servant,

October 7th, 1790.
